

AIRSHOW WITH THRILLS, LAUGHS PLAYS SUNDAY

The Veterans' Air Show has landed at Centerville Airport! Climbing out of his specially built acrobatic plane, "Madman" Page said this week, "Our show is a continuous run of action, thrills, laughs—no dull moments." He named the star of the surprise act in Sunday's show, but

LOCAL AIRPORT WILL BE SHOWN IN 'LIFE'

There may be lots of Centervilles throughout the United States, but in a forthcoming issue of Life magazine, Centerville, CALIFORNIA, will be the one you'll read about!

That's right—our own CENTERVILLE will have its name on the pages of the popular national magazine; Life's photographers are going to be at the Centerville Air Show on Sunday and you, and you, and—yes—perhaps even YOU—will find yourself pictured in Life, for of course some in the crowd are bound to get in the picture, even though the cameramen will no doubt concentrate their attention on the star aerialists.

The title of the spread that Life devotes to the Centerville Airport Show will be "Life Goes to an Airshow."

The San Francisco office of the magazine telephoned the exciting news about coverage of the show late yesterday to Don Hubbard, manager of the airport.

whatever he will do is still anybody's guess. He is Bob McConaghy, ex-pilot of a P47 with credit of 131 missions over Germany, twice shot down, 26 times decorated, and 14 air medals.

"Batwing" Lynn White, holder of the world's record for batwing jump at 20,750 feet; Dorothy Barden, making her 416th twin chute exhibition jump; and "Madman" Page, skimming the field upside down, are other main attractions.

The full day's activities begin at 9 o'clock in the morning. A variety of demonstrations is promised—airplane fire extinguishing, spot landing, precision "bombing," novelty races, post-war airplane models. A public address system set up on the field will give a running commentary of the whole show. The contests and trials are scheduled for 1:00 o'clock.

The main show, sponsored by the Centerville Chamber of Commerce, starts at 2:00 o'clock. Children under 10 will be admitted to the airport free of charge. For them, and parents too, there is a special demonstration of gasoline-propelled model airplanes.

NEWARK WOMAN IN AUTO ACCIDENT

Mrs. Barbara Brennan escaped with minor head injuries when her car was almost demolished in a collision with a truck last Tuesday morning. The accident occurred at the intersection of Central and Cherry avenues in Newark.

Both drivers were taken to Dr. Holman's office in Centerville by the ambulance from Dallas Paul. The truck driver, Charley Carey of Stockton, suffered minor lacerations and fractured ribs.

ZONING ORDINANCE COMES UP FOR MORE DISCUSSION

Wallace B. Boggs, county surveyor and secretary of the Alameda County Planning Commission, announces that the Planning Commission will hold its second hearing on the proposed zoning ordinance for the unincorporated areas of Alameda county, on Tuesday, May 21, at 2 p.m., in the Board of Supervisors rooms, court house, Oakland.

If no changes are considered necessary by the planning commission, it will probably approve the ordinance at this meeting and then transmit it to the Board of Supervisors for consideration.

The Board of Supervisors must hold public hearings before final adoption of the ordinance.

"The Festival will have horses and free auto parking," remarked Gus Robertson this week in telling of two more contributions to the April Festival of next month.

Several horses, donated from the stables at Hidden Valley Ranch, will be in the big parade of June 23. Robertson explained the rest of his quote when he added that Lee Williams has offered his tract of land behind the school for an auto parking lot on June 22 and 23.

Robertson also said the queen contestants, and parents and friends, are invited to attend the next meeting of May 29 of the Irvington Improvement Club, spark-plug organization for the township festival.

These are the contestants and their standing in the race for queen: Dorothy Amaral, Irvington, is again first with 13,200 votes. Ellen Hall, Irvington, and Betty Brandt, Centerville, follow with 8,800 and 7,700 votes respectively.

Betty Silva, Alvarado, Mary Gularde, Newark, Annabel Vargas, Warm Springs, each have 3,300 votes. Vivian King, Irvington, Yvonne Calderia, Newark, Virginia Feliciano, Decoto, Patricia Mendonca, Niles, all have 2,200 votes to their credit. Betty Allender, Irvington, Jan Strano, Newark, and Elaine Neeley, Mission San Jose, have sold 1,100 queen votes.

B.P.W.C. HAS NEW OFFICERS

Miss Grace Knoles, teacher and dean of girls at Washington Union High School, was installed as the new president of the Business and Professional Women's Club last Monday evening at an installation dinner and ceremony held in the social hall of the Niles Congregational Church. Miss Knoles succeeds Miss Carmelita Berge.

The other new officers are as follows: vice-president, Josephine Morris; recording secretary, Irma Boland; corresponding secretary, Yvonne Whitehurst; treasurer, Rose Vieux; auditor, Rosalind Egan; and directors, Antonia Snodgrass, Bernice Nordvik, Lee Hyde, Vilo Dias and Gertrude Enos.

Following the dinner, which was cooked and served by the Sanford Circle of the Niles Congregational Church, a program was presented which included music and speeches. Mrs. Harriett Thornburg and Miss Dorothy Van Scoy sang two vocal duets and Miss Albie Mae Costa played a solo.

Installation was conducted by Marie Campbell, director at large of the Bay District. Arrangements for the evening were under the direction of Rose Vieux, Yvonne Whitehurst, Gertrude Enos, Bernice Nordvik and Irma Boland.

NEWARK TO HAVE BOOSTER SYSTEM IN DISPOSAL LINES

Installation of a booster system that will correct overflow conditions in the Union Sanitary District in Newark is expected in the near future, according to a statement this week from George A. Coit, president of the sanitary district.

The pumping system would be placed below the chemical works and would relieve the natural flow in the present sewage disposal lines. Coit added that the booster would eliminate backing up in the lines when there is pressure from strong tides in the bay.

Bids for the construction work will be opened at 8:00 o'clock, the night of June 5, in the office of the sanitary district at 1249 Thornorton avenue, in Newark.

Choose the Man Most Capable

EDITORIAL

One of the weaknesses of democracy always has been that men best qualified for large responsibilities so seldom run for public office. This is because men of this type usually shun political activity; they are not politicians.

Will Lamoreux, candidate for trustee of the Niles Elementary School, is a man who before coming to our community was on the faculty of Cornell University. He has the background of an educator. He is not a politician. He has made no promises, spread no rumors.

His one argument for himself is himself. We have encountered various arguments against his being elected, however.

One of these is the "old-timer" argument that "we old-timers must stick together." And this is the weakest of cases. Progress moves forward, generation by generation, from old to new. Examine this argument closely and you will see that it is only a stodgy prejudice.

Another argument heard around Niles is that Mr. Lamoreux might "change things." This implies that any change is bad, a line of thought which is silly. Were there no changes in education our children today obviously would be going to the same type of schools and studying the same texts as our grandfathers.

And there are the "rumor" arguments. Oddly, the rumors, falsely designed, which have been made into the weakest of cases against Mr. Lamoreux's election, have been aimed at his supporters—including this newspaper—and not at Mr. Lamoreux. This is a high compliment to him. As for the rumors aimed our way, we can only ignore them.

The voter when he casts his ballot this afternoon at the Niles school should forget what political talk he may have heard and think only of the children who attend the school.

A school trustee holds as a public trust the responsibility for the education of children. It is a job that voters must fill with thought and discretion.

Who is the MOST CAPABLE of the two candidates? Think it over before you vote.

JOB PROSPECTS NEXT FORUM TALK

What are the prospects for employment on the Pacific Coast? An internationally recognized research expert from this area will present his views on this subject at the next forum meeting in the high school auditorium.

Dr. Samuel C. May, a member of the department of political science at the University of California, will be the speaker on May 23. He has developed a research center and training program at the university for the students of public administration that has made him an international leader in this field.

Next week's speaker has acted as chairman of the California State Planning Board and as a member of the Berkeley City Council. Among his other active associations in the field of political science he is consultant to the City Manager's Association of California.

A graduate of Columbia University and Yale Law School, Dr. May engaged in the practice of law for five years before he became a teacher and consultant in his important field.

The forum meetings of the Adult Education Program for Washington Township begin at eight o'clock. There is no admission charge.

PATROL MEMBERS HONORED FOR FAITHFUL DUTY

The certificates were signed by Vaughn D. Seidel, county superintendent of schools; Captain L. A. Elke, California Highway Patrol; T. P. Maloney, principal of the Centerville School; and Dr. Georgina T. Drotour, president of the Alameda County Board of Education.

IRVINGTON YOUNG PEOPLE TO ATTEND CONVENTION

The Young People's Christian Endeavor of the Irvington Community Church met at the local rink for another of their skating parties last Friday night.

MARY AGNA DIES HERE THIS WEEK

Mary Agna, 58, died Monday at her home in Centerville. A native of Massachusetts, she was a resident in the Bay Area for 25 years.

She is survived by her husband, Edwin Agna; and daughters, Mrs. Hilda Pickler of Centerville, and Mrs. Alice Anderson of Long Beach. A late son, Reginald Agna, was killed in action during the last war. Surviving grandchildren are Mary, James and Reginald Pickler and Shirley Anderson.

Funeral services were held Wednesday afternoon from the Chapel of the Palms in Centerville and burial was at Oak Hill Cemetery in San Jose.

NILES HORSE IN FOURTH PLACE AT SHRINERS' RACE

Niles fans of that popular horse, Don o' War, owned by Elsie and Ted Economy, weren't too disappointed last Saturday at Bay Meadows when the Don, instead of coming in first as expected, came in fourth, as there was some pretty stiff competition put up that day by some first-rate horses.

It was Shriners' Day with all the color and thrills that you'd expect from a Shriners' show. Preceding the races the Palomino Club of San Francisco paraded their beautiful Palominos, numbering in the hundreds. There were other organizations, too, with other horses, including some handsome pintos.

Horses, however, didn't take all the limelight, for the many fine Shrine bands, and other bands, created a great deal of interest and favorable comment.

Then came the first race—and Don o' War. Don o' War, you remember, recently came in first in a race at the same track and, more recently, lost another race only by a whisker. In the Shriners' Day spectacle, however, he was a little off his feed, but even so, managed to come in fourth, which is a good enough reason for his owners and the people of Niles to still be proud of him.

Racing fans here in Niles are eagerly watching the papers to see if Don o' War will get in another race at Bay Meadows before the closing of the season, which is set for this week-end.

UNITED TOMORROW FOR EMILY MOURA

Emelia Enos Moura, 80, life-time resident in the community, died at her home in Niles Wednesday night. A native of the Azores, she made her home in Niles for the past 66 years.

She was the widow of the late Bernard Enos Moura, and her surviving children are Mrs. Minnie Ferry, Mrs. Marie Vouteccos, and John Enos Moura of Niles. Also surviving are a daughter, Mrs. Jeannette Knudsen of Manteca; and a sister, Mrs. Marianna Oliveira of Gilroy. Grandchildren are Frank Ferry, George Vouteccos, Lorreta Knudsen; and a great-grandchild, Gordon Vouteccos. She was the mother of the late Mrs. Emma Kallas of Niles.

Funeral services will be held tomorrow (Saturday) morning at 8:30 o'clock from the Berge Mortuary in Niles, with a 9:00 o'clock mass at Corpus Christi Church. Rosary will be recited at 8:00 o'clock tonight at the parlor. Burial will be in Holy Ghost Cemetery in Centerville.

1500 WITNESS FLOWER SHOW

It was a gala two-day show at the International Kitchen last week-end. The first of what may be an annual flower arranging show was held there under the sponsorship of the adult education program of the local high school, with Mrs. W. L. McWhirter, instructor in flower arranging, directing the show.

More than 1500 people witnessed the affair and were all of the same opinion—that it was outstanding, and should be held every year.

There were 151 entries, all of which were beautiful and original. Mrs. Henry Machado was the sweepstakes winner, taking more blue ribbons than anyone else. Other prize winners were as follows: Mesdames John Santos, Ted Harvey, Thomas Power, Joseph Gomes, Jessie Perry, Warren Gravestock, Joseph Santos, Joseph Gastelum, Richard Kennedy, Henry May, Estella Kutzner, Edward Verrera, Fred Muller, George Roderick, Marcia Hirsch, and Miss Margaret Fair.

Judges were Mrs. George Roeding Jr., Mrs. E. C. Grau, Mrs. Gladys Williamson and J. A. McDonald.

PETITION ASKS SEWERS FOR AREA WEST OF NILES

Solution of the problem of sewage disposal for the area west of the present Niles Sanitary District has now reached the stage of a petition among the property owners in the concerned area. The petition, which was being circulated by Ed Enos this week, requires the signatures of at least 25 per cent of the freeholders.

The area in question extends west of Niles to the Pacific States Steel Company and from the hills to the Western Pacific railroad track. The proposal is to extend sewer lines through the district by means of a booster pump. Cost of the construction has been estimated at $80,000.

It has been argued that the annexation would not be a burden to the Niles Sanitary District since total valuation of the combined area would provide a wider tax base.

Assessed valuation of the proposed area is set at $676,650, as compared with a figure of $649,000 for the Niles sanitary district.

DISTRICT ATTORNEY CHAMBER SPEAKER

District Attorney Ralph E. White has been secured as guest speaker by the Niles Junior Chamber of Commerce. Word was received this week that the district attorney will deliver an informal talk on the activities of his office at the meeting of May 29, according to Program Chairman Ed Enos.

The chamber will gather for a dinner meeting at the International Kitchen at 7:00 o'clock. The date has been changed from May 21.

DECOTO BOY IN OAK KNOLL HOSPITAL

Silva, on his motorcycle, collided with a car, and was thrown to the pavement. Blame for the accident has not been fixed.

Township Ball Season Starts Tonight; Nine Teams Vie for Trophy

Take me out to the ball game...

The high school band will undoubtedly strike up this familiar tune as it comes out on the field tonight (Friday) in the ceremonies that will start ball playing in the Washington Township Softball League for this year.

There will be little of opening-day ceremony, however, according to Al Silveria, president of the league association. Following an introductory talk by E. Dixon Bristol, a pre-league double-header will touch off the season.

Wedgewood meets Westvaco in the first game scheduled for 7:30 o'clock tonight. In the second offering, Native Sons and Woodmen of the World will take up where they left off at the close of the 1942 season. In the championship playoff of that year, Native Sons took the trophy at the Woodmen's expense, 5 to 2.

Official league playing starts on Monday night, May 20. Silveria said the nine clubs are well matched and he's looking forward to a hotly contested race for the trophy. The managers have agreed on a 10-man lineup with 60-foot base lines, he added.

The schedule of games for the first week of the league follows: May 20—Kleine's vs. Kraftile; Westvaco vs. Central Chevrolet.

May 21—Mission Firemen vs. Frick's; Woodmen vs. Wedgewood. May 22—Native Sons vs. Westvaco; Kleine's vs. Central Chevrolet.

May 23—Mission Firemen vs. Woodmen; Kraftile vs. Wedgewood. May 24—Central Chevrolet vs. Frick's; Kleine's vs. Native Sons.

League officials say the field is ready—the players are set—the Boy Scouts will sell the popcorn. The fans have something to say, too. It's play ball!

Antone Vargas is the Warm Springs man who will run again. His colleagues are John Smith and Frank Gomes.

In Irvington, R. A. Griffin is the incumbent running for re-election. Other trustees are J. R. Silveira and Leslie Hiller.

Judge Allen G. Norris, who will also have his name on the primary ballot in June for re-election as justice of the peace, also is on the school trustee ticket tomorrow in Centerville. Others on the Centerville board are Manuel Olivera and Ernest Sabina.

In Mission San Jose, Frank Vargas is the man whose name goes on the ballot again. His co-workers on the school board are Joe Azevedo and Joe Telles.

Manuel White of Decoto comes up again for the Decoto board. Other Decotans who are trustees are William Davis and Alwin Searles.

Polling places are located in the various school buildings, with polls open from 12 to 6 p.m.

TRUCK WRECKED AT IRVINGTON

A truck, hauling two trailers turned over and crashed into a power line pole in front of the Central Bank in Irvington early Tuesday morning as the driver failed to make the turn at the monument on his way to Oakland.

As the truck hit the pole, a 400-pound transformer crashed to the pavement and barely missed Rex Nix, driver, of Oakland, and his companion, Merchant Seaman Sam Glenn from Salinas. The driver suffered a spinal injury and Glenn received serious lacerations.

The accident, which occurred at about 4 o'clock in the morning, tied up traffic until noon while wreckers worked to right the vehicle and tow it away. The rear trailer was thrown against the front of the bank and tore part of the building's facing away without breaking a window.

Both injured men were taken to the Fairmont Hospital by the Dallas Paul ambulance from Centerville. Nix was later transferred to a Berkeley hospital.

IRVINGTON BOY LAID TO REST

Funeral services, with schoolmates in attendance, were observed last Tuesday for Donald Dee Chitwood, 8, of Irvington, fatally injured last Saturday when he turned his bicycle into an automobile traveling north on the Niles-Mission San Jose highway.

The Irvington school, which the boy's four brothers and sisters attend, was represented at the final rites. Schoolmates David Cross, Alvin Gomes, Orbie Robertson, Richard Del Fiorentino, Ronald Bothello and Andrew Costa were pallbearers and the Cub Scouts acted as honorary members.

The boy's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer A. Chitwood, have been members of the community for the past five years.

The services were held from the Berge Mortuary in Irvington and burial was in I.O.O.F. Cemetery in Irvington.

NEWS from Walt & Ed

We saw an old blind horse the other day walking around a stump, so we asked the farmer why he was doing that, and he said: "Years ago we used this horse to pull a sweep on a feed grinder, so we decided to put him out in a pasture for the rest of his days with clover up to his knees, and the darn fool found this stump and has been walking around it ever since."

Come in and see some new modern furniture. Oh, yes, we are taking orders for the famous Ambassador Venetian Blinds. Come see us some time.

WHEN IS SNEAK DAY?

Now it can be told! There's an annual ritual at the high school that keeps everyone but the senior class guessing. The big question among the other students is when will the seniors take off on their Sneak Day.

On the appointed day the secretive students, and their advisors, steal right out of their classes and take off for a day of fun. The rendezvous is picked out for its variety of recreational facilities. Swimming - horse-back riding - picnic grounds - a spot to lie in the sun—all, go to make a day the graduating class will remember.

This year's senior class had their fun this week. The entire student body now knows that Sneak Day was Wednesday and it all happened at Alum Rock.

This is election day. Feel the excitement in the air? It's exhilarating, isn't it?

Unlike some, who hesitate to commit themselves, I'm going to say right in print that I for one will be very disappointed if Will Lamoreux isn't elected trustee of the Niles school board.

How many towns the size of Niles have the opportunity of having on their school board a man of his type—a former professor at Cornell University and one of the foremost men in the country in his profession? How wonderful for a rural town to have a man like that offer his services to the school! What a reflection on the community if his generous offer to serve is turned down!

WHY HORSES LOSE

I attended the races at Bay Meadows last week as a guest of the owners of the now-famed Niles horse, Don o' War. Mr. and Mrs. Ted Econome, incidentally, were the most gracious host and hostess I have met in a long while.

While I was there I became acquainted with a horse named Swingaway. He was a pretty chestnut. I first saw him back in the paddock being led around by the trainer.

"Hi, there!" I greeted the horse in a friendly enough voice. "I suppose you're getting ready for the race. Are you nervous?"

The horse looked down his patrician nose at me with contempt. "That's a stupid question that one could expect only from the genus homo. How would YOU feel," he went on haughtily, "if you were forced to put on blinkers and race around for five furlongs in front of a grandstand full of neighing and whinnying HORSES?"

"The idea is a new one to me," I admitted, "but frankly I don't believe it appeals to me—especially with blinkers. One would not know exactly where one was going, would one?"

"One would most certainly not," agreed the horse, continuing to let himself be led around the paddock by the indomitable trainer. "And furthermore," went on my chestnut friend, "this whole affair reeks of commercialism. Who cares anything about my pride if I win this race? Who comes up to me and offers me a lump of sugar when the race is over and says, 'There, there, Swingaway (and remind me to let me tell you what I think of the names you humans foist on us), you did a swell job. We'll buy you a new saddle when we get home.' Instead, all I hear is, 'Brother, did I clean up on Swingaway! Made 200 bucks. What a sweet race!' The horse continued. "See what I mean? It's mercenary, isn't it?"

"Well," I said consolingly, "there are a lot of people here today to see you do your stuff. This is Shriner's Day, you know. They say it's a record crowd."

"Frankly, I'm not interested," retorted my equine acquaintance. "If those are the Shriners out there in those red satin bloomers, I'd just as soon wear that silly crimson blanket they drape over me when they lead me on to the track. And furthermore, the whole idea of bringing all those Palominos over here to show off is an insult to us race horses. There were at least three dozen of them. The sight of them prancing around in that vulgar display of silver trappings is the most disgusting thing I've seen here today. Besides that, they've ruined the track so that I'll probably have the devil of a time staying out in front of that stupid Nylon Sal."

"Nylon Sal seems to be the favorite," I remarked, casting a wary eye at Swingaway, wondering how he'd take it.

"Favorite indeed!" he snorted. "That nag won't even show. I'll bet on it."

"Don't be mercenary!" I snapped. Just then a woman came up and gave Swingaway an anxious eye. "Look at him," she moaned to her spouse, "he's shaking like a leaf! I'm afraid I'm going to lose that two dollars I bet on him. He's nervous!"

"My God!" wheezed Swingaway, "she wants me to go out there and foam at the mouth so she won't lose two dollars! That, sister"—he rolled his eyeballs around in their whites—"is why I'd rather be a mule."

"Well," I said, "it looks as though our little conversation will have to be postponed until after the race. I see they're getting ready to lead you out to the track."

The horse neighed wearily, and eyed with distaste the jockey who was mounted on him. He turned back to me and said, "They all wear these gaudy silk shirts. It's a device calculated to detract the eye from the horse." He shrugged his shoulders. "Well, see you later," he said laconically. "I hear the pony boys sounding the trumpets, so I suppose I'll have to be on my way."

"I hope you win," I called after him.

Swingaway let his lip curl over his monumental teeth in a decided leer. "Sister," he said, "this is no time to be facetious. When I go out on the track I ALWAYS win!"

I watched Swingaway spurt out of the starting gate when the red flag went down, along with about nine other horses. I then lost track of him until the race was almost over. He was straggling in next to the last, much to my amazement.

"Nylon Sal wins!" The crowd screamed hysterically.

I went over to Swingaway and asked testily, "What happened to YOU?"

Swingaway winked at me, "Well," he explained nonchalant-

OUR READERS WRITE . . .

"A Reader" is passing out a bouquet this week to Josephine Bettencourt, our correspondent in Centerville. We agree that Josephine is doing a fine job. We also think our other correspondents deserve a few bouquets too. We couldn't get along without any of them! And this week we'll add a new one to our list. Mrs. C. R. Purdy, wife of Commander Purdy of Canyon Heights, has promised to write us the Canyon Heights news. Will you Heights readers please see that your news is passed on to her before Wednesday afternoon? Thank you for your cooperation.—The Editors.

Editor, Sir:

I've been a subscriber of your paper for about ten years and like it very much. Also enjoy reading "Thinking Things Over." I'd sure hate to be the one you're throwing those hints at.

Now I'd like to talk about your correspondent you have for Centerville, Josephine Bettencourt. She's a gal that deserves a lot of credit for putting herself out of the way trying to get news for her columns in your paper. The reason why I'm writing this is because I know her personally. She has six plump children. Two are of school age and a third will start school this fall. So come on, Centerville residents, let's give her more news. Her phone number is in the paper. Our hats of Centerville are off to you for your splendid work. I'm not mention-ly, "my owner'll say the track was too soft, the music made me nervous, or the jockey didn't know how to handle me. But,"—he nosed up closer to me and continued in a confidential tone—"let me give it to you straight. Just as I was coming in to the home stretch, I spotted that dame in the crowd—the one that had two dollars on me. She was screaming to me like a fishwife, 'Come on, Swingaway! Faster! Faster!' Sister, that was the end of the race. That was the finish right there, as far as I was concerned. I saw red. I turned to her and said, 'Stop yelling at me, woman. It's a vulgar display of emotion.' I took an instant dislike to the creature and, to get even, immediately slowed down."

Swingaway winked at me again. "And now, my dear, you know the reason why we horses sometimes lose races." He tossed his chestnut mane, "Well, I'll be seeing you," he said, "at Hollywood Park or at the Kentucky Derby."

ing my name as I don't want her to know it's I that's bragging. I hope you're able to read this as I am a poor writer. In the old days we didn't have much schooling.

Thank you.

Dear Mrs. Batman:

The Washington Township Country Club appreciates the interest you have taken in all its programs and activities during Mrs. Robert Moore's year as president.

We also wish to thank you for the generous publicity in The Township Register.

Cordially yours,
DOROTHY W. HILL,
Acting Secretary.

LOCATION OF NEW TRANS-BAY BRIDGE UNDER DISCUSSION

In selecting the location for a second trans-bay crossing, now under study as authorized by the California Toll Bridge Authority, full consideration should be given to traffic origin and destination studies, so that the greatest number of motorists may be served by the proposed facility, in the opinion of the Board of Directors of the California State Automobile Association.

The association directors also took the position that in the event the proposed new bay crossing provides transportation facilities other than for motor vehicles, the cost of providing such additional transportation facilities should not be imposed on motor vehicle owners.

The motoring public, it was pointed out, is vitally interested in the location and construction of an additional bay crossing which will best serve the interests of the vast majority of car owners who have occasion to cross frequently from one side of the bay to the other. The association directors also urged that the traffic study and subsequent recommendations should give full consideration to the traffic requirements which justify the construction of a second bay crossing.

STANLEY GUEST AT FIREMEN BANQUET

The Decoto fire department met in full strength with several guests for their annual banquet last Friday night. County Supervisor Chester E. Stanley was present along with representative fire officials from the bay area.

Chief Roland Bendel was host to Chief Frank Sandy and Captain Howard Fuller of the Oakland department and Chief Bert Rose from Emeryville. Lt. P. Paniagua acted as chairman, and arranged for the program that included a steak dinner.

A movie camera fast enough to photograph the movement of sound waves is said to have been invented in Japan. This machine is declared capable of making 60,000 exposures a second.

LEONARD KELLY BACK HOME, LIKES BASEBALL LIFE

Leonard Kelly of Decoto, who was signed up with the St. Louis Cards last month, is home again after training with the Cards in the East. His stay here will be only a temporary one, just long enough to permit him to help his father with the farm.

During the spring training in the east, those who watched him throw the baseball across the diamond, asserted that he "has the best arm in pro-baseball in this country."

Kelly says he liked the baseball life in the east because "lots of pretty gals come around the hotel lobby, wanting autographs."

LOOK TO THE PAST TO SEE THE FUTURE

If you've ever farmed with "Caterpillar" Diesel power you'll probably agree with Clarence Annin, who says, "On the acreage I farm intensively (200 acres), I have been handicapped by being under-powered, but my 'Caterpillar' 28 has been getting me by, and the faithful performance of the 'old timer' is sufficient reason for me to wait for my new 'Caterpillar' Diesel."

Mr. Annin has given his "Caterpillar" track-type Tractor the "acid test" and not found it wanting. He knows that "Caterpillar" proven performance of the past is the best assurance for power in the future.

Are you looking ahead to your power needs? We'll be glad to come out and give you facts and figures on "Caterpillar" Diesel Tractors. It takes the guesswork out of tractor buying.

Sportsmen's
NewsPOLLUTION PROBLEM
IN CRISIS STATE

Pollution, the worst in ten years, is killing fish and waterfowl in gross lots throughout the nation today. In Northern California the situation is best exemplified by conditions in the San Francisco bay region, according to reports received by the Associated Sportsmen of California.

J. G. McKelvie, State Fish and Game Warden for Alameda County, stated recently that, speaking conservatively, at least 1000 ducks have died as a result of the terrific oil pollution in bay waters. Coast Guard officials and fish and game inspectors say that pollution is increasing despite repeated warnings and pleas for compliance with the laws for the sake of public health and welfare.

The Associated Sportsmen, in an effort to focus public attention on the menace of pollution to the economic, sanitary, and recreational welfare of the public, is to hold a mass meeting at the Oakland Auditorium within the next 30 days.

Len Tibbott of Marin County, chairman of the association's pollution committee which is handling the arrangements for the public meeting, says the people must demonstrate their interest in this matter.

The association is entering objections to the issuance of a permit to the City of Alameda by the War Department for construction of a sewer main emptying into San Francisco bay, increasing in that manner the already over-polluted waters.

Navy, Coast Guard and fish and game authorities are alarmed about the situation and have promised the association the utmost cooperation in any effort to halt what is patently a callous disregard of the public health and welfare.

Let's Talk About the Election . . .

RESPONSIBLE AUTHORITY IS THE BASIS of any elective officer's performance of his duty.

THIS IS MY RESPONSE, now that the question is raised whether or not I shall continue as Justice of the Peace at Office No. 1. It is my place to tell you what I think of my work, and what I shall do if I am again re-elected.

I LIKE MY JOB

and I try to perform it well, as any good workman who honors his trade and spends his full time in a constructive way.

THE TOOLS OF MY TRADE

are knowledge of the laws of the land and the practice of human fair play; the thing I build, as best I can, is justice.

MANY COSTLY COURT TRIALS

have been saved the taxpayers during my four terms. In many cases, parties have freely waived trial by jury because, in their own words, they "trusted to the fairness of Judge Silva's decisions."

A GOOD JUDGE MUST STUDY HIS CASES;

this takes time, not only in court, but at home, and if a man has other work to think of, he cannot give full attention to the cases that come before him. I shall continue to devote my full working day, my full effort and long experience to my job as Justice of the Peace.

IT'S A FULL TIME JOB!

PUT MAY 25 DOWN IN YOUR DATE BOOK

PUBLIC GARDEN PARTY TO BE BIG AFFAIR

May 25! Remember the date! That's the day when you can throw your worries to the winds, cast off the cares of your business or home, get out in the open air, eat, talk with your friends and—have fun!

Yes, Saturday, May 25, is going to be a big day in Niles. For it is the day when the annual benefit public garden party at the J. C. Shinn home is going to be resumed by the Toyon Branch of the Children's Hospital of the East Bay after a lapse of several war years.

For the convenience of the business men, who always attend along with their wives and children, luncheon in the garden will be served at twelve o'clock, to continue on to 1:30. You will be able to get a complete home-cooked luncheon for only 75 cents. In these days of food shortages just the lunch alone, at that modest price, would be enough to warrant your attendance at this novel affair. In addition to the lunch, however, which will naturally be the main attraction, there will be all varieties of entertainment—horse-back riding, games, and toys for the children—concessions of all sorts, and even fortune-telling, for the adults.

The committees for the affair, the proceeds of which will go to the Children's Hospital of the East Bay, have been selected as follows: general chairman, Mrs. E. D. Brindley; luncheon, Mrs. Robert Bladon; Mrs. Elmer S. O'Connell and Mrs. Tom Robbins; food table, Mrs. Frank Fields and Miss Mildred Nauert; Girl Scout concessions, Mrs. A. W. Gorman; fish pond, Mrs. T. C. Wilson; white elephant, Mrs. R. A. Sparrowe; miscellaneous booth, Mrs. Helen Ford and Mrs. J. B. Carroll; fortune tellers, Miss Gertrude Keller and Mrs. Dora Mae Scudder. Boy Scouts will be on hand to direct the visitors and give assistance in any way it's needed.

DDT FOR FLY CONTROL

DDT is a relatively safe and effective means of controlling houseflies, stable flies, and horn flies on dairy and range cattle if it is used in a water suspension spray.

"It is recommended that animals be sprayed with a water suspension made from a wettable powder and containing 2.5 per cent actual DDT," says James R. Douglas, assistant professor of parasitology, University of California. "A number of wettable preparations of this type are available commercially which contain from 25 to 50 per cent DDT."

For example, if a 50 per cent DDT powder is employed, four pounds should be mixed with ten gallons of water to give a 2.5 per cent suspension. This amount will be sufficient to treat thirty to forty cattle. The spray should be applied to the animal with a rather coarse spray, using a sufficient amount to insure a thorough wet-
